

Content-Map SEO Audit

Full-site technical & on-page audit driven by the content map

Scope: all 277 pages in data/content_map.yml (241 keyword-target).

GSC snapshot: qp_rollup_2026-06-08.json.

Generated: 2026-06-12.

Method. Ten dimensions extracted deterministically from the rendered site, markdown source, and Google Search Console; three subjective dimensions (anchor mismatches, keyword targeting, cannibalization) judged by an AI agent panel and adversarially verified before inclusion.

Methodology

This audit treats `data/content_map.yml` as the source of truth for what each page is supposed to target. Every page is then measured on ten dimensions:

Dimension	What it measures
1. Internal links	Count + full anchor list of in-content editorial links (markdown body).
2. External links	Count + list of outbound links.
3. Anchor check	Internal anchors whose text is more/less specific than the destination page's target keyword (e.g. an "early-stage startups" anchor pointing at the generic hub).
4. Title	Title tag text + length.
5. Description	Meta description text + length.
6. Headings	H1 count (rendered) + H2 outline (markdown).
7. Schema	JSON-LD @types emitted by the page.
8. Keyword frequency	Exact + stemmed-family occurrences of the primary keyword in the body.
9. Cannibalization	Other pages drawing GSC impressions for this page's primary query.
10. Crawlability	Indexability: noindex, canonical (self/cross), sitemap inclusion, redirect aliases.

Dimensions 1–2 and 4–10 are computed deterministically. Dimensions 3, 8-targeting and 9-severity require judgment: a per-cluster AI agent assessed them, then a second adversarial agent attempted to refute each finding. Only findings that survived verification are reported as confirmed.

Executive summary

Poor inbound (≤2)	116	REVIEW
Confirmed anchor mismatches	28	REVIEW
Keyword-targeting issues	19	REVIEW
Confirmed cannibalization pairs	8	REVIEW

Headline findings

- 1. Systemic anchor mismatch (27 pages). Every glossary “Also read” link uses the anchor “best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups” but points to the generic `/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/` hub — while the dedicated `/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/` exists. One repoint fixes all 27.
- 2. Compare pages target zero-demand strings. Pages like `/compare/piperocket-digital-vs-klientboost/` target branded “X vs Y” terms that capture no impressions; the real GSC demand is competitor-review queries (“klientboost reviews / pricing”). Retarget to proven demand.
- 3. Fifteen confirmed cannibalization pairs. Including near-duplicate listicles (best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026 ↔ best-saas-growth-marketing-agencies) and split SaaS-SEO blogs. Merge / canonical / differentiate as noted in §9.

Conclusion — why the site isn't ranking (goal validation)

This audit was commissioned because the site has published consistently since ~November yet non-brand content does not rank. The per-page sections that follow are hygiene — real, worth fixing, but not the reason nothing ranks. The actual bottleneck is below.

The decisive split: brand vs non-brand

Query type	Query-rows	Clicks	Impr-weighted avg position
Branded ("piperocket...")	416	420	5.7 (page 1)
Non-brand (the whole content program)	8493	35	46.3 (page 5)

92% of all clicks come from people already searching the brand name. Every non-brand commercial/informational term — the entire purpose of the content — averages position 46 and produced 35 clicks in 6 weeks despite 139,904 impressions. Google indexes the content and shows it for the right queries, then ranks it on page 5.

Where impressions actually sit

Position bucket	Impressions	Share
1–3	6,633	5%
4–10	9,499	7%
11–20	15,773	11%
21–50	45,147	32%
51–100	62,852	45%

The cause: authority deficit + targeting above weight class

Authority, not on-page. Semrush Authority Score 20, 133 referring domains. The SERPs the program targets — “best b2b seo agency”, “enterprise seo agency”, “saas marketing agency” — are owned by AS 50–80 sites with hundreds-to-thousands of referring domains. An AS-20 site cannot rank there regardless of page quality. The branded rankings (pos 5.7) prove Google knows the brand — it just doesn't trust the domain for non-brand terms yet.

Referring-domain quality — the real authority picture

Authority Score	Ref. domains	Share	Worth
91–100	2	1%	excellent
81–90	0	0%	—
71–80	1	<1%	excellent
61–70	1	<1%	strong
51–60	6	4%	strong
41–50	9	7%	good
31–40	9	7%	decent
21–30	17	13%	borderline
11–20	10	7%	weak
0–10	78	59%	near-worthless (spam/dirs)

The “133 backlinks” headline is inflated. 59% (78) of referring domains are AS 0–10 — scrapers, junk directories, spam that Google ignores or discounts. Only ~19 referring domains are AS 41+ (and ~28 are AS 31+). Your effective authority is far below even AS 20. The fix is link quality, not volume: another 50 AS-0–10 links do nothing — you need editorial AS 40+ domains. Realistic first milestone: AS 41+ referring domains from ~19 → ~50.

Not the migration. The site never ranked well for non-brand terms — pre- or post-migration. The WP→Hugo move (~Apr 2026) only adds minor friction (5 broken redirects → 404, see §6). Not indexing either — 283 pages indexed, shown for the right queries.

Trend confirms it. Avg position crept 33→29 over the window but impressions fell ~21% and CTR is stuck at 0.3% — not a healthy authority-building ramp. Publishing more content will not move this.

What actually moves rankings (in priority order)

#	Lever	Why
1	Backlinks / digital PR — referring domains ~50 → 150+	The bottleneck. Original data studies (you have a stats page), founder-led/HARO, write-for-us, partnerships.
2	Target within weight class	Pursue keywords whose page-1 competitors are AS ≤25–30 (long-tail, segment-specific, BOFU niche) using the content-map intent/funnel/cluster lens. Win those first, then climb.
3	Consolidate topical authority	A weak domain spread across 240 pages (saas-seo + saas-ppc + 15 verticals + tools + glossary) signals shallow everywhere. Dominate ONE cluster first.
4	Stop equity leaks	Fix the 5 broken redirects → real targets; fix orphaned money pages. Free, but won't move rankings alone.

Bottom line: the content and the pages are not the problem. The bottleneck is off-page authority and over-ambitious keyword targeting. Fix authority + targeting; treat the per-page findings below as hygiene.

4. Heading tags

Every page should have exactly one H1. Pages failing that:

Page	H1	H2
/glossary/what-is-crawling/	3	7

5. Schema (correctness & usability)

Every page's JSON-LD was parsed and validated against schema.org + Google rich-result requirements (required fields, ISO dates, usable image, author E-E-A-T link, expected types per page type). 128 pages have at least one schema issue.

Issue frequency (pages affected):

Schema issue	Pages
Article: image is the fallback logo SVG	106
Article: missing datePublished	15
Article: missing dateModified	15
Article: author missing/invalid	13
Article: author has no url	13
missing expected Article schema	11
missing expected BreadcrumbList schema	11
missing expected ItemList schema	11

Most impactful:

106 Article pages use the fallback logo SVG as their schema image. Google won't use a logo SVG for article rich results — set featuredImage in frontmatter to the page's cover so the Article/OG image is unique and usable.

11 /compare/ pages emit no Article and no BreadcrumbList (the “compare” section is missing from the template's article-schema list). They also miss the breadcrumb rich result. Add “compare” to the $isArticle set in partials/head-meta.html.

11 /alternative/ pages emit no ItemList — the ItemList extractor only fires for the /list/ section, so ranked “alternatives” pages lose “best X” / carousel eligibility.

6. Internal linking (link graph)

In-content editorial links only (markdown body; navigation, directory grids and CTAs are excluded — they don't pass topical equity). Across all pages: 2307 internal and 3591 external links. Inbound/outbound are redirect-resolved.

“Orphan” = no in-content link from any other page points to it.

None. ☐

Broken redirects — active 301 → a 404 target (5)

Legacy URLs (several have live GSC impressions / inbound equity) that 301 to a slug that doesn't exist — so the equity lands on a 404.
Repoint each to the correct live page.

Stray redirect rules — non-firing 301 on a live page (2)

A live page has a non-forced 301 in `_redirects`. Netlify serves the file and skips the rule, so it's dead config — but it's a latent trap (e.g. `/blogs/optimize-saas-landing-pages-for-seo/` points at a doubled-slug 404). Remove these rules.

7. Anchor-text mismatches (verified)

28 internal links where the anchor points to a less-specific or wrong destination when a better page exists.

Adversarially verified. The dominant pattern is the “early-stage startups” glossary anchor (see headline finding #1).

Page	Anchor	Currently →	Should →	Why
/glossary/what-is-a-backlink/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Anchor explicitly says 'early-stage startups' but links to the generic SaaS-SEO-agency hub ('best saas seo agencies'). A dedicated page /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ (target 'best saas seo agencies for startups') matches the anchor's startup qualifier exactly and is the better destination.
/glossary/what-is-a-canonical-tag/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Same systemic mismatch: the 'early-stage startups' anchor points to the generic hub rather than the dedicated startups listicle /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ that targets 'best saas seo agencies for startups'.
/glossary/what-is-a-long-tail-keyword/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Anchor names 'early-stage startups'; the more specific, better-matching page /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ exists and should be the target instead of the generic hub.
/glossary/what-is-a-meta-description/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Startup-qualified anchor links to the generic hub; the dedicated startups page /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ is a stronger match for the anchor intent.
/glossary/what-is-an-seo-audit/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Anchor's 'early-stage startups' qualifier is more specific than the hub target; /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ matches it directly.
/glossary/what-is-an-chor-text/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Same anchor/destination mismatch; the startup-specific listicle is the better target.

/glossary/what-is-fi-d/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Startup-qualified anchor mis-points to the generic hub instead of the dedicated startups listicle.

/glossary/what-is-ssl-certificate/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Same systemic mismatch; the dedicated startups listicle is the more precise destination for this anchor.
/glossary/what-is-structured-data/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Anchor is more specific (startups) than the hub target; /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ is the better match.
/glossary/what-is-technical-seo/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Same systemic anchor/destination mismatch; the startup-specific page is the better target.
/glossary/what-are-keyword-clusters/	best SaaS SEO agencies for early-stage startups	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	Startup-qualified anchor links to the generic hub; /list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/ matches the anchor's startup intent better.
/blogs/saas-seo/	ABM	/account-based-marketing-agency/	/glossary/what-is-abm/	A bare acronym 'ABM' used as a definitional inline term links to the commercial ABM service landing page, but a definitional glossary page /glossary/what-is-abm/ (target 'what is ABM') exists and is the more natural match for an in-body acronym mention. Note: if this is the CTA/services link it may be intentional; otherwise the glossary entry is the better target.
/blogs/saas-link-building/	SaaS SEO agency guide	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-link-building-agencies/	The sentence reads 'benchmark how top agencies approach this [link building] differently' on a page whose whole topic is SaaS link building. It points to the generic best-saas-seo-agencies listicle, but a link-building-specific listicle (/list/best-saas-link-building-agencies/, primary 'best saas link building agencies') exists and matches the sentence's intent far better. Anchor topic is more specific (link-building agencies) than the destination's broader SaaS-SEO-agencies target.

/list/best-devtools-marketing-agencies/	SaaS marketing	/saas-seo-agency/	/	Anchor reads 'SaaS marketing agency' (PipeRocket described as a full B2B SaaS marketing agency: SEO+PPC+GEO+content+ops) but links to /saas-seo-agency/ which targets only 'saas seo agency'. The homepage / targets 'saas marketing agency' exactly and is the better, broader match for this self-description anchor. Note: the parallel listicles point the broad 'SaaS marketing'/'SEO' service-stack anchors at the same SEO page, so this is a consistent pattern, but it is the only case where the anchor is a full agency descriptor rather than a single channel.
/glossary/what-is-nrr/	top SaaS SEO agencies	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	The anchor is the generic head term 'top/best SaaS SEO agencies' but it points to the startup-segment page (primary 'best saas seo agencies for startups'). The generic /list/best-saas-seo-agencies/ (primary 'best saas seo agencies') is the exact match. This is an under-specific anchor on a too-specific destination, and the same NRR page already links three other times to the correct generic page, making the startup-page link an inconsistent mismatch.
/glossary/what-is-content-marketing/	best SaaS marketing agencies for content-driven growth	/list/best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026/	/list/best-saas-content-marketing-agencies/	This is the content-marketing glossary and the anchor's qualifier ('content-driven growth') signals content-marketing intent. A dedicated SaaS content-marketing listicle (/list/best-saas-content-marketing-agencies/, primary 'best saas content marketing agencies') exists and is a tighter topical match than the generic SaaS marketing roundup. Medium, not high, because the anchor head ('best SaaS marketing agencies') still matches the current destination's primary, so the existing link is defensible.
/glossary/what-is-content-marketing/	best B2B marketing agencies for content strategy	/list/best-b2b-marketing-agencies/	/list/best-b2b-content-marketing-agencies/	On the content-marketing glossary, the anchor qualifier 'for content strategy' points at content-marketing services. A dedicated B2B content-marketing listicle (/list/best-b2b-content-marketing-agencies/, primary 'best b2b content marketing agencies') exists and matches the anchor's content-marketing intent better than the generic B2B marketing roundup. Medium because the anchor head matches the current destination's primary.

Page	Anchor	Currently →	Should →	Why
/list/best-b2b-demand-generation-agencies/	B2B demand generation	/saas-ppc/	/blogs/b2b-demand-generation-guide/	The anchor text is the exact phrase 'B2B demand generation' but it points to the SaaS PPC service landing page (primary 'saas ppc'), which is about paid search, not demand generation. The cluster's own TOFU guide /blogs/b2b-demand-generation-guide/ has the exact-match primary 'b2b demand generation' and is the correct, clearly-better destination for this anchor. Sentence context: 'Our approach to B2B demand generation starts before any campaign goes live...'

8. Keyword targeting

19 pages where the editorial primary doesn't match the page's content or its actual GSC demand (multiple primaries, doubtful secondaries, or primary mismatch).

/saas-ppc/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is the bare term 'saas ppc', but this is a commercial agency landing page (title 'B2B SaaS PPC Agency'). GSC shows it actually draws on agency-intent queries: 'saas ppc agency' (514 impr, the dominant query), 'b2b saas ppc agency' (153), 'saas ppc advertising company' (85), with 'saas ppc' itself only 130. The bare term 'saas ppc' is also the editorial primary of the blog /blogs/saas-ppc/, so the landing page is mis-aimed at an informational blog's target.	Retarget this landing page's primary to 'saas ppc agency' (matches its title and dominant GSC demand) and leave 'saas ppc' to the /blogs/saas-ppc/ post.
/ai-seo-services/	primary mismatch	Primary 'ai seo services' barely registers for this page in GSC (only 'perplexity aeo service', 5 impr). The sibling page /enterprise-ai-seo-services/ is the one actually ranking for 'ai seo services' (pos 83), 'ai seo agency', 'seo ai', and 'aeo agency'. The two AI-SEO service pages are not cleanly separated on the head term.	Tighten this page to the non-enterprise / mid-market AEO+GEO angle in its title ('AI SEO Services for B2B SaaS (AEO+GEO)') and reserve enterprise/AI-SEO-agency head terms for /enterprise-ai-seo-services/, so the two pages stop competing for 'ai seo services'.
/blogs/saas-seo-strategies-and-framework/	primary mismatch	This page's editorial primary is 'saas seo strategies' and its title is 'SaaS SEO Strategies: Complete 8-step Framework for 2026'. But /blogs/saas-seo/ is titled 'SaaS SEO: The 8-Step Pipeline Strategy for 2026' and is the same 8-step framework. GSC confirms the overlap: this page ranks poorly (pos 48-57) for 'saas seo strategy', 'seo strategy for saas', 'saas seo strategies', while /blogs/saas-seo/ also surfaces for those same strategy queries (the slice lists /blogs/saas-seo/ in this page's cannibalization at pos 19.9). Two pages chasing the same head term ('saas seo strategy/strategies') with duplicate framework content.	Decide one canonical owner of 'saas seo strategy/strategies'. Since /blogs/saas-seo/ is the stronger ranking pillar, either consolidate this strategies page into it (301) or sharply differentiate this one (e.g. make it a deeper tactical playbook and re-point its primary to a longer-tail variant), then fix internal anchors that currently feed both.

/blogs/how-to-rank-on-chatgpt-in-2026-strategies-and-tips/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'how to rank on chatgpt' and the body genuinely covers ranking on ChatGPT/AI engines, but the page is barely picking up that query in GSC. Its impressions are dominated by off-topic 'chatgpt 2026 performance' / 'chatgpt rating 2026' navigational noise, while the on-topic 'how to rank on chatgpt for saas business' queries land on /blogs/how-to-write-saas-seo-content-with-ai-that-actually-ranks/ instead. The primary is editorially correct but the page is under-optimized for it relative to its sibling AI-content page.	Keep the primary as-is (it is the right editorial target) but strengthen on-page targeting of 'how to rank on chatgpt' (H2s, intro, internal anchors using that exact phrase) so it, not the AI-content-writing post, owns the SaaS ChatGPT-ranking queries; tighten the link relationship between the two so they stop trading those impressions.
/list/best-legaltech-marketing-agencies/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'best legaltech marketing agencies' and the body is correctly about legaltech SaaS (legal software) marketing. But GSC shows the page only earns impressions for legal-SERVICES marketing intent - 'legal marketing agency', 'legal marketing consultant', 'best lawyer seo', 'attorney marketing company/firms', 'legal digital marketing agency' - all at positions 70-96. It gets effectively no traction for its actual legaltech-SaaS target, and the queries it does surface for are a different audience (law firms/attorneys, not legaltech software vendors).	Decide which intent the page serves. Keep the legaltech-SaaS focus and strengthen on-page legaltech-software signals (CLM, e-discovery, legal-ops buyer language) so it stops being interpreted as a law-firm marketing page; do not chase the attorney/lawyer-SEO queries here. If law-firm marketing is a wanted target, that belongs on a separate page rather than diluting this one.
/blogs/saas-ppc-checklist/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'saas ppc checklist', but the page's actual GSC impressions are dominated by bare head terms that belong to the pillar /blogs/saas-ppc/ (target 'saas ppc'): 'ppc for saas' (34 imp, pos 22.0), 'saas ppc' (30 imp, pos 25.6), 'ppc for saas companies' (10), 'saas ppc strategy' (10, pos 21.6), 'ppc saas' (6). The body uses 'saas ppc checklist' 9 times but never uses 'ppc for saas' or 'saas ppc strategy'. The checklist is absorbing head-term demand the pillar should own (the pillar /blogs/saas-ppc/ has primary_freq_family 22 but zero GSC impressions).	Keep 'saas ppc checklist' as primary, but stop the checklist from competing for the bare head term: tighten its on-page targeting to the checklist long-tail, and strengthen /blogs/saas-ppc/ as the canonical 'saas ppc' / 'ppc for saas' pillar (the checklist already links up to it). Investigate why the pillar earns no impressions despite high keyword frequency.

/glossary/what-is-google-ads/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is the definitional 'what is Google Ads', but every top GSC query is the SaaS-commercial 'google ads for saas' family (google ads for saas 43 impr pos 33.6; saas google ads 27; google ads for saas companies 19; saas google ads management 11; google ads agency for saas 4). The page ranks for none of its definitional primary and instead competes for queries owned by the dedicated blog /blogs/how-to-run-google-ads-for-saas/ (primary 'google ads for saas') and the landing /google-ads-agency/.	Keep this glossary page strictly definitional (target 'what is Google Ads'/'google ads definition') and trim SaaS how-to framing so it stops absorbing 'google ads for saas' impressions; route that intent to /blogs/how-to-run-google-ads-for-saas/ via a clear in-body link. Confirm the blog is the canonical ranker for the SaaS-Google-Ads query set.
/blogs/b2b-ppc-guide/	primary mismatch	This page and /blogs/b2b-ppc/ are both editorially assigned primary 'b2b ppc'. The guide's title/body is the 'how to run B2B PPC campaigns' execution angle (its own anchor to itself reads 'how to run B2B PPC campaigns'), and GSC reflects that: 'b2b ppc campaigns', 'how ppc works for b2b', 'ppc campaigns for b2b', 'how to use ppc ad for b2b' — process/how-to queries, all stranded at positions 48-85. Meanwhile /blogs/b2b-ppc/ owns the bare 'b2b ppc' query at position 15.6. Two pages cannot both be the 'b2b ppc' target.	Re-target this page to a how-to head term it actually earns, e.g. primary 'how to run b2b ppc campaigns' (or 'b2b ppc campaigns'), and let /blogs/b2b-ppc/ keep the bare 'b2b ppc' primary. Differentiate the angles explicitly or consolidate the two into one guide.
/blogs/b2b-ppc/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'b2b ppc', but the body and GSC lean SaaS-specific: top query is 'b2b saas ppc' (27 impressions, pos 23.9) ahead of 'b2b ppc' (18 impressions, pos 15.6), plus 'b2b saas ppc strategy' and 'saas ppc tips'. The page ranks notably better for the SaaS-qualified variant. It also collides with /blogs/b2b-ppc-guide/ which shares the identical 'b2b ppc' primary.	Keep one of the two blogs on 'b2b ppc' and make this the canonical 'b2b ppc' page; consider leaning the title/H1 toward 'b2b saas ppc' if that is the intended audience, since it is the stronger-converting query. Resolve the duplicate-primary clash with /blogs/b2b-ppc-guide/ first.

/compare/piperocket-digital-vs-siege-media/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is the navigational/branded term 'piperocket digital vs siege media', but the page gets ZERO impressions for it. 100% of GSC demand is for Siege Media's own reputation queries: 'siege media clutch rating' (162 impr, pos 7.6), 'siege media seo reviews clutch' (83), 'siege media seo review clutch' (78), 'siege media reviews clutch' (59), 'siege media clutch reviews' (36), 'siege media minimum engagement' (11). The body is a genuine PipeRocket-vs-Siege comparison, but the demand it actually captures is 'Siege Media reviews/rating/minimum'.	Keep the comparison page but reframe its target around the demand it proves it can win: Siege Media reviews / Clutch rating / minimum engagement. Lead the title/H1 and intro with 'Siege Media review + how it compares' rather than the branded 'PipeRocket vs Siege Media' head-to-head, which has effectively no search volume.
/compare/piperocket-digital-vs-omniscient-digital/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary 'piperocket digital vs omniscient digital' captures no impressions. GSC demand is entirely Omniscient Digital's own reputation queries: 'omniscient digital clutch reviews' (28, pos 9.5), 'omniscient digital clutch rating' (23, pos 5.3), 'omniscient digital clutch' (4), 'omniscient digital pricing' (2); the rest are brand/site: queries. The page ranks as an Omniscient Digital info page, not a branded comparison.	Re-target around 'omniscient digital reviews / clutch rating / pricing' (what it actually ranks for) and ensure those phrases appear in the title, H1 and an early section; treat the PipeRocket head-to-head as the angle, not the head term.
/compare/piperocket-digital-vs-klientboost/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary 'piperocket digital vs klientboost' gets no impressions. All GSC demand is KlientBoost's own queries: 'klientboost reviews' (12), 'klientboost clutch rating' (9, pos 9.8), 'klientboost pricing' (8), 'klientboost enterprise pricing and large budget capabilities' (6), 'klientboost pricing structure' (6), plus 'klientboost pricing structure landing page services' (5) and 'successcoaching vs. klientboost' (4). The page's real intent is KlientBoost reviews/pricing.	Align the primary with the proven demand: 'klientboost reviews' / 'klientboost pricing'. Surface those in title/H1/intro and expand a pricing + reviews section; the branded 'vs PipeRocket' framing has no measurable demand.

/compare/piperocket-digital-vs-webfx/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary 'piperocket digital vs webfx' captures no impressions. GSC demand is WebFX's own queries: 'webfx clutch rating' (14, pos 8.6), '"webfx"' (2), 'webfx clutch profile' (2), 'webfx seo pricing' (2), plus brand/site: queries and one cross-comparison 'victorious seo vs webfx'. The page ranks as a WebFX info page.	Re-target toward 'webfx clutch rating / webfx seo pricing / webfx reviews' (its real ranking queries) in title, H1 and an early section; keep the PipeRocket comparison as supporting framing rather than the head term.
/compare/piperocket-digital-vs-nogood/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary 'piperocket digital vs nogood' gets no impressions. GSC shows 'nogood agency minimum budget' (10, pos 5.6) and 'nogood alternative' (2), 'nogood.io' (1), plus brand/site: queries. The substantive demand is NoGood's minimum budget / 'nogood alternative'. Note 'nogood alternative' is the target of the separate page / alternative/nogood-alternatives/ (primary 'nogood alternatives'), so this compare page is bleeding into that page's term.	Re-target the primary toward the proven query 'nogood agency minimum budget' (and NoGood pricing/reviews). Steer the 'nogood alternative' angle to /alternative/nogood-alternatives/ to avoid overlap, and keep this page as the head-to-head/minimum-budget comparison.
/compare/piperocket-vs-directive-consulting/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary 'piperocket vs directive consulting' captures no impressions. GSC demand is Directive's own queries: 'directive consulting clutch rating' (36, pos 6.3), 'directive consulting minimum budget' (27), 'directive consulting minimum monthly ad spend' (23), 'directive consulting seo agency review' (11), 'directive consulting minimum spend paid media' (9), plus cross-comparisons 'compare momentic marketing vs. directive consulting for saas seo' (12) and '...for enterprise saas seo' (11). Separately, the markdown body is only 58 words (h2_count 0) — the entire comparison lives in frontmatter — so on-page text reinforcing any target is essentially absent.	Re-target toward Directive's proven demand ('directive consulting clutch rating / minimum budget / minimum monthly ad spend / seo agency review') in title, H1 and intro, and add real body copy (the page currently has 58 words of prose) so the page has indexable text supporting that intent. Also note /alternative/directive-consulting-alternatives/ exists for the 'alternatives' angle.

/glossary/what-is-keyword-research/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'what is Keyword Research' (correct for a definitional glossary, and the body is a genuine generic definition supporting it). However GSC impressions skew SaaS-specific: 'saas keyword research' (41 impr, pos 30.6), 'saas keywords' (24, pos 51.1), 'keywords for saas' (13), 'keyword research for saas' (12), 'keyword analysis for saas' (8), 'saas keyword strategy' (6) all outrank 'what is keyword research' (20 impr, pos 81.1). The page is unintentionally absorbing SaaS-keyword-research demand that a dedicated blog (/blogs/how-to-do-saas-seo-keyword-research/, primary 'saas seo keyword research') should own.	Keep the editorial primary as 'what is keyword research' (it is the right call for a glossary definition), but treat the SaaS-keyword-research queries as belonging to /blogs/how-to-do-saas-seo-keyword-research/. Reduce SaaS-specific framing/examples here and add a body link to that blog so the SaaS-intent queries consolidate onto the dedicated page rather than this definition.
/list/best-b2b-seo-agencies/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'best b2b seo agencies', but GSC impressions are overwhelmingly on the unmodified commercial head terms, not the 'best'-prefixed query: 'b2b seo agency' (738 impr), 'b2b seo services' (424), 'b2b saas seo agency' (369), 'b2b seo solutions' (326), 'b2b seo company' (294), 'b2b seo agencies' (204) all outweigh 'best b2b seo agency' (191) and 'best b2b seo agencies' itself does not appear in the top queries. These are all one coherent commercial intent (b2b seo agency/services), so this is not multiple-primary, but the chosen primary string is narrower than what the page actually earns. Page sits at position 60-85 across the board, so the mismatch is between the editorial label and demonstrated demand, not a body-vs-target conflict.	Keep this as the single commercial listicle but treat the primary as the broader head term 'b2b seo agency' (with 'best b2b seo agencies' as a close secondary). Reflect 'b2b seo services'/'b2b seo company' in H2s/title to match where the impressions actually are; no second page is warranted since all queries share intent.

/list/best-saas-growth-marketing-agencies/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary is 'best saas growth marketing agencies', but every top GSC query is the plain head term: 'saas marketing agency' (1083 impr, pos 73), 'saas digital marketing agency' (470), 'saas marketing agencies' (348), 'marketing agency for saas' (329), 'saas marketing firm' (178), 'saas marketing companies' (167). 'saas growth marketing agency' (297) and 'saas growth agency' (168) are minor by comparison. The page does not rank as a distinct 'growth marketing' asset; it competes for the exact same 'best saas marketing agencies' intent that /list/best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026/ editorially owns. Frontmatter, agency roster (6 of 9 shared), and BOFU/commercial structure are near-identical to the 2026 page.	Treat this as a true duplicate of /list/best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026/ rather than a separate 'growth' target. Either (a) consolidate the two into one canonical 'best saas marketing agencies' listicle (301 the weaker/older URL into the stronger one), or (b) if both must exist, genuinely differentiate this page to 'saas growth marketing' (growth-team/experimentation/demand framing, distinct roster and queries) so it stops chasing the same head term. Do not leave two BOFU listicles both ranking for 'saas marketing agency'.
/list/best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026/	primary mismatch	Editorial primary 'best saas marketing agencies' matches the page's intent and body, but the page barely ranks for it - its own top GSC impressions are long-tail/AEO-style strings ('what brands do people recommend for saas marketing agencies? in 2026', 'kalungi clutch reviews', 'reviews of agencies for saas marketing operations'), while the head 'best saas marketing agencies' / 'saas marketing agencies' impressions are being absorbed by the older /list/best-saas-growth-marketing-agencies/ and the legacy /blogs/best-saas-marketing-agencies/. This is a symptom of the cannibalization below, not a separate targeting error.	Resolve by consolidating with /list/best-saas-growth-marketing-agencies/ (see that page) and redirecting the legacy /blogs/best-saas-marketing-agencies/ here, so a single page owns the 'best saas marketing agencies' head term instead of impressions splitting three ways.

9. Cannibalization (verified real)

8 confirmed page pairs competing for the same primary keyword in GSC. Verified by an adversarial pass, then redirect-filtered: competitors that 301 to the page (legacy WordPress URLs, the best-geo-agency→best-geo-agencies and top-b2b-ppc→best-affordable-b2b-ppc consolidations) are excluded as already-resolved.

/blogs/saas-seo/	/blogs/saas-seo-strategies-and-framework/	MEDIUM	differentiate	Both are informational SaaS-SEO blogs (this targets 'saas seo', competitor targets 'saas seo strategies') and both surface for 'saas seo'/'saas seo strategy' queries (appears twice, pos 64-70). Overlapping informational intent; sharpen the strategies post around 'strategy/framework' angle and keep this as the head-term pillar, with a clear pillar->spoke link.
/saas-ppc/	/saas-ppc/faqs/	MEDIUM	canonical	This is a child FAQ subpage of the same landing page ranking for the parent's own 'saas ppc' demand (25 impr, pos 81; plus another row). Same intent, same page family splitting signals - consolidate or canonicalize the FAQ subpage to the parent.
/blogs/saas-seo-strategies-and-framework/	/blogs/saas-seo/	HIGH	merge	Genuine head-to-head cannibalization. /blogs/saas-seo/ ('SaaS SEO: The 8-Step Pipeline Strategy for 2026') and this page ('SaaS SEO Strategies: Complete 8-step Framework for 2026') are the same 8-step SaaS SEO framework. /blogs/saas-seo/ appears three times in this page's cannibalization list, including pos 19.9 vs this page's pos 48-57, for the identical 'saas seo strategy/strategies' query set. Two near-duplicate pages splitting the same intent; consolidate into the stronger /blogs/saas-seo/ pillar (or hard-differentiate) and 301/canonical the loser.
/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies-for-startups/	MEDIUM	differentiate	The startups-segment listicle repeatedly surfaces (19+12+5+3+1+1 impressions, all pos ~71-79) for the head 'saas seo agency / agencies / company' queries that the main listicle owns. Both are live commercial listicles in different clusters, so they should coexist, but the segmented page is pulling the generic (non-startup) head terms it shouldn't. Tighten the startups page to 'startup/early-stage' modifiers and ensure the main page is the sole target for unqualified 'saas seo agency' queries; keep internal links flowing from segments up to the main listicle.
/list/saas-seo-experts/	/list/best-saas-seo-agencies/	MEDIUM	differentiate	The best-saas-seo-agencies listicle pulls 106 (pos 76) + 1 (pos 78) impressions on this page's 'saas seo consultant/expert/consulting' query set, and both are commercial BOFU listicles in the same SaaS SEO cluster. They overlap heavily on the agency-vs-expert/consultant intent. Differentiate: keep the experts page firmly on 'consultant/expert/consulting/freelancer' language and the agencies page on 'agency/company/firm', and cross-link them, so Google has one clear winner per query family.
/blogs/saas-ppc/	/blogs/saas-ppc-checklist/	MEDIUM	differentiate	Both are informational SaaS-PPC pages. The checklist (target 'saas ppc checklist') is actually ranking for the bare head terms 'saas ppc' (30 imp, pos 25.6) that the pillar /blogs/saas-ppc/ ('saas ppc') is editorially meant to own - and the pillar gets zero impressions. The checklist is cannibalizing the pillar's head term. Keep both but differentiate targeting: pillar owns 'saas ppc' / 'ppc for saas' / 'saas ppc strategy'; checklist narrows to checklist-specific long-tail. Reinforce the pillar internally and fix why it earns no impressions.
/blogs/b2b-ppc-guide/	/blogs/b2b-ppc/	HIGH	differentiate	Both blogs carry the identical editorial primary 'b2b ppc' and both target the same informational TOFU intent. /blogs/b2b-ppc/ ranks pos 15.6 for the head term while the guide languishes at 48-85 for how-to variants; they are splitting the same topic. Pull them apart (guide = 'how to run b2b ppc campaigns', other = the 'what is b2b ppc' head term) or consolidate into one.

/list/best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026/	/list/best-saas-growth-marketing-agencies/	HIGH	merge	Two near-identical BOFU/commercial listicles in the same SaaS Marketing cluster, sharing 6 of 9 agencies and the same template. The 'growth' page out-ranks the 2026 page and absorbs the bulk of the 'best/saas marketing agencies' impressions (348 @ 64.7, 163 @ 56.7, 133 @ 62.6, plus 7 @ 81.9). Both target the same query and intent and split rankings. Consolidate into one canonical 'best saas marketing agencies' listicle (301 the weaker URL) or genuinely differentiate the growth page to a separate 'saas growth marketing' angle.

10. Primary-keyword frequency

How often the primary keyword (and its morphological family — e.g. agency/agencies) appears in the body. Priority order: landing pages first (the money pages must own their term), then listicles, then everything else. A long page where the primary barely appears is under-optimised.

Landing pages — primary density below 3 (7 of 30)

Money pages should mention their exact target keyword several times. Sorted by frequency (lowest first).

GSC top queries: legal marketing agency (p86.5, 8i); legal marketing consultant (p93.8, 4i); best lawyer seo (p96.7, 3i); legal digital marketing agency (p71.7, 3i); agencia marketing legal (p86.5, 2i); attorney marketing company (p88.5, 2i)

□ keyword [primary_mismatch]: Decide which intent the page serves. Keep the legaltech-SaaS focus and strengthen on-page legaltech-software signals (CLM, e-discovery, legal-ops buyer language) so it stops being interpreted as a law-firm marketing page; do not chase the attorney/lawyer-SEO queries here. If law-firm marketing is a wanted target, that belongs on a separate page rather than diluting this one.

□ keyword [primary_mismatch]: Treat this as a true duplicate of /list/best-saas-marketing-agencies-2026/ rather than a separate 'growth' target. Either (a) consolidate the two into one canonical 'best saas marketing agencies' listicle (301 the weaker/older URL into the stronger one), or (b) if both must exist, genuinely differentiate this page to 'saas growth marketing' (growth-team/experimentation/demand framing, distinct roster and queries) so it stops chasing the same head term. Do not leave two BOFU listicles both ranking for 'saas marketing agency'.
